

SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE FOR THE GOVERNOR'S LEADERSHIP FOUNDATION (GLF) PROGRAM

A number of full or part scholarships or awards are available to people who will, by their participation in the Governor's Leadership Foundation Program, add important diversity of background and experience to the program group but who do not have the means to pay the full program fee. Such scholarships are normally reserved for those working in small community organisations, unpaid roles, small business, self-employed, or who are living a long way from Adelaide (and therefore require support for travel expenses). We do not ordinarily consider applications for scholarships from those in full-time paid employment in business or government roles based in the Adelaide metropolitan area except in extraordinary circumstances. Applications for the following scholarships should be made via the scholarship application form available on our website at www.leadersinstitute.com.au and submitted along with your completed application for the GLF program.

THE PASTOR SIR DOUG NICHOLLS AND LADY GLADYS NICHOLLS SCHOLARSHIPS (TWO SCHOLARSHIPS)

These scholarships are being funded by the SA Government's Chief Executives Group on Aboriginal Affairs. They were set up to commemorate the 10th anniversary of the Governor's Leadership Foundation in 2010 in order to help encourage and facilitate the participation of indigenous leaders in the GLF program. The scholarships have been established in the name of the first (and only) Aboriginal Governor of South Australia, Pastor Sir Douglas Nicholls and his wife Lady Gladys Nicholls in recognition of their significant leadership in such a broad diversity of areas (sports, social justice, human rights, governance). There are two scholarships available – one will cover the full cost of a place in the GLF program and the other will cover half of the cost.

LEADERS INSTITUTE INDIGENOUS AWARD

This is an award for an indigenous participant in the Governor's Leadership Foundation Program that covers ¾ of the program fee. The funding for this award has been generously provided by Terry Teo, a graduate of the GLF program in 2005, and his wife April Muirden. Terry and April are committed to helping address the social, economic, health, housing and educational disadvantages experienced by our Aboriginal population, and to helping facilitate indigenous people's full participation in the community and the life of the state.

ADELAIDE AIRPORT LTD EYRE PENINSULA LEADERS SCHOLARSHIP

Adelaide Airport Ltd (AAL) believes participating in community activities fosters the state's reputation as a vibrant and world-class location in which to live. It has been a major supporter of the GLF program for the last two years. In an effort to help the Leaders Institute strengthen and build its participant and alumni base beyond Adelaide, AAL is offering a full scholarship for the 2011 GLF program for a leader based in the Eyre Peninsula region.

COMMUNITY BUSINESS BUREAU SCHOLARSHIP

The Community Business Bureau (CBB) is a not-for-profit organisation with a mission to provide services and programs which build the capacity and capability of not-for-profit organisations. CBB is proud to once again show its commitment to leadership development in the community sector by offering this full scholarship for the Governor's Leadership Foundation to a community sector employee.

GLF ALUMNI SCHOLARSHIP

The alumni of the Governor's Leadership Foundation funds one full scholarship or two partial scholarships each year. The scholarships are generally reserved for those working in community organisations, part-time or unpaid roles, working in small business, self-employed or who are living a long way from Adelaide.

HAIGHS SCHOLARSHIP

Haigh's is the oldest family-owned chocolate retailer in Australia. It currently funds a full scholarship for a participant in the GLF program who works in a community organisation.

FULCRUM PEOPLE SCHOLARSHIP

Fulcrum People are a national human resource consulting firm which began operations out of its Adelaide head office 22 years ago. Fulcrum People has worked closely with the GLF program for the last 7 years and through this association they have learned that the GLF program is unique in raising the consciousness & development of strategic foresight capacity of emerging senior South Australian leaders. As a consequence, they are prepared to fully or partially support the involvement of a suitably qualified, experienced & committed Human Resource professional in the GLF 2011 program.

The board of the Leaders Institute of SA may grant additional scholarships. These are assessed on a case-by-case basis.
